

Feb. 20, 2009
PR# 09-017

AWT Asks Public's Help in Locating Aircraft

*UPDATE****

(ANCHORAGE, Alaska) – The Alaska Wildlife Troopers (AWT) located the plane in Washington State. Troopers will hold the aircraft until the investigation and potential court case is final. The investigation is ongoing and, as of yet, charges have not been filed. If /when charges are filed, more information regarding the investigation will be made available.

AWT would like to thank the public for its help in locating the aircraft.

Feb. 9, 2009
PR# 09-017

*ORIGINAL RELEASE****

(ANCHORAGE, Alaska) - Alaska Wildlife Troopers are investigating an illegal big game guiding operation that involved the use of a super cub N191AK. Alaska Wildlife Troopers currently have a seizure warrant for this airplane. Information leading to the seizure of this aircraft may result in a cash reward. Please contact Wildlife Safeguard at 1-800-478-3377 if you have information about this plane.

